INDUS & PERU HOST EXHIBIT

Luminescence: The Silver of Peru exhibit offers exposure to different regions in destination

Harish Shroff, BDM, Indus Travels; Dr. Niamh O'Laoghraire, director, University of Toronto Art Centre; Maureen Smith, business & programs coordinator, University of Toronto Art Centre; and Juan Forteza, account manager, VoX

Indus, in collaboration with Only Latin America Tours, hosted Luminescence: The Silver of Peru, an exhibition curated by B.C.'s Museum of Anthropology and presented by the University of Toronto Art Centre.

The seminar included travel professionals and discussed the exhibit, Indus products as well as Peru as a destination.

Juan Forteza, account manager, VoX International told TRAVELHotNews.com that the exhibit is great exposure for different regions in the destination.

"The exhibit focuses a lot on North of Peru which we call the Ruta Moche and we are trying to promote the area. Unbelievable treasures and secrets are hiding there." Forteza said.

One of the main highlights was a small group tour called 'In the Footsteps of Hiram Bingham,' and led by travel explorer Peter Frost. The tour departs on Oct.21, 2013 and runs for eight days. The tour price is $3,455 per person on twin sharing basis and $775 for single supplement.

The Luminescence exhibit runs until March 9.
